Grand Canyon West to Reduce Diesel Consumption with New Solar Field*Submitted by: Meghan Gearino, PR Strategist | Madden MediaPRESS RELEASE

Mark Anderson, Lori Nelson and Brian Seibel of Solon, Tribal Council member, Blake Watahomigie, HTUA Board member Jason Davis, GCRC Board Vice-Chair Carrie Imus, Planning Director Kevin Davidson, HTUA General Manager Bill Cyr and Tribal Council member Stewart Crozier

Grand Canyon West to Reduce Diesel Consumption with New Solar Field*Innovative self-contained sustainable power grid system to be online in 2023*

GRAND CANYON WEST (October 11, 2022) - The Grand Canyon Resort Corporation, under the advisement of the Hualapai Tribe, is proud to announce the creation of an innovative self-contained and sustainable power system. Following a groundbreaking today, a six-month construction process will begin that will augment the existing diesel-energized power grid with clean, renewable solar energy to serve Grand Canyon West. This project is funded in part by a Department of Energy grant, a Freeport McMoRan grant and Hualapai funds that include revenue from Grand Canyon West.

The tribe will be utilizing a 3.7 acre site to construct the 885-kW solar field and 750-kW/2,145kWhr battery storage system created by Solon and Tesla to interface with the existing Caterpillar generators. With these additions, the Grand Canyon West solar array will be providing some 1,800 MWhrs per year of clean solar energy, saving approximately $450,000 per year and over $11 million dollars over the 25-year life of the system in diesel fuel costs on top of significantly reducing air emissions from burning fossil fuels.

This project is extremely unique as Grand Canyon West is not connected to any regional power grid. The micro-grid currently powers the following locations at Grand Canyon West: Airport Terminals & original Airport Rescue Fire Fighting Facility (ARFFF), Eagle Point Skywalk, Guano Point Café, Hualapai Point, Maintenance Facility, Employee Housing and the Police Station and Firehouse on Diamond Bar Road.

"This initiative is extremely important to the Hualapai Tribe as it allows us cost savings for other important missions and gives back in a sustainable way to the land that our tribe has been entrusted with for thousands of years," said Melissa Havatone, Grand Canyon Resort Corporation Interim CEO

This newly enhanced dual powered grid will also better ensure that the visitor's experience at Grand Canyon West will never be interrupted by power service issues. We look forward to this first step in moving towards a more sustainable power infrastructure system within the Grand Canyon Resort Corporation.

U.S. Department of Agriculture • Notice of Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI)*Submitted by: Kevin Davidson | Hualapai Planning DepartmentU.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE*Rural Utilities Service*Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority, Hualapai Tribe: Notice of Finding of No Significant Impact*AGENCY: Rural Utilities Service, USDAACTION: Notice of Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI)

SUMMARY: Notice is given that the Rural Utilities Service (RUS) has made a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) with respect to a request for possible financing assistance for Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority, Hualapai Tribe, Grand Canyon West 69kV Interconnection Project, Mohave County, Arizona.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION OR FOR COPIES OF THE EA AND FONSI,

CONTACT: Ms. Kristen Bastis, Environmental Branch Chief, Water and Environmental Programs, USDA Rural Utilities Service, at 202-692-4910; or e-mail: RUSPublicComments@usda.gov. The EA and BLM FONSI can be accessed at the BLM National NEPA Register (NEPA Number: DOI-BLM-AZ-C010-2021-0020-EA) at <https://eplanning.blm.gov/eplanning-ui/project/2012131/510> and the RUS FONSI and NOA can be accessed at USDA's website at :Grand Canyon West 69kV Interconnection Project | Rural Development (usda.gov) at: <https://www.rd.usda.gov/resources/environmental-studies/assessment/grand-canyon-west-69kv-interconnection-project>

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority, Hualapai Tribe proposes the Grand Canyon West 69kV Interconnection Project reduce current electrical costs and save approximately $2 million per year. The project would reduce diesel fuel consumption, reduce operating costs and provide additional housing and reliable electrical services to those employed at GCW. A new 48 strand fiber optic line would be run along with the electric line. This would stabilize telecommunications and provide broadband to GCW. The proposed project consists of four main components: The new GCW Substation, located on Tribal lands just south of GCW, a new, approximately 36-mile long, 69kV transmission line, originating at the existing UES Dolan Springs Substation, north of Dolan Springs, Arizona, extending east and north to the new GCW Substation and then on to the existing GCW power distribution system, a new 69kV circuit breaker, isolating switches, 5 MVar capacitor bank, and primary metering point located at the UES Dolan Springs Substation and a new 48-strand fiber optic line. The proposed transmission line with fiber optic would be constructed along the 35.84 mile (57.7 km) long Tenney Ranch Road alignment

The HTUA, submitted an application (SF-299 "Application for Transportation and Utility Systems and Facilities on Federal Lands") to the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) Kingman Field Office on August 23, 2017, requesting rights-of-ways to construct, operate, and maintain a 69kV electric transmission line and fiber optic line across BLM-administered lands. The purpose of the project is to improve electrical and communication services at the Grand Canyon West development located on the Hualapai Indian Reservation.

There were six alternatives considered in the Environmental Assessment (EA). The No Action Alternative which provides a baseline with which to compare any proposed activities; The Proposed Action; and four alternatives that were considered but dismissed for various reasons including non-compatibility with the BLM's Kingman Resource Management Plan, culturally sensitive areas and one of the routes would be outside the certified service area for the utility. Renewable energy sources do not meet the need to tie into the existing grid and have been dismissed from consideration for the time being but may be considered in the future.

The EA was posted and available for review and comment on the BLM's ePlanning website from October 25, through November 24, 2021. On October 25, 2021, the BLM Kingman Field Office issued a press release to local media outlets announcing the opening of the public comment period. The press release was emailed to interested stakeholders, including all individuals who participated in scoping. Individuals who did not provide an email address were sent a copy of the press release via U.S. Mail. Local, County, State and Tribal governments, agencies, and non-profits were also notified of the opportunity to comment on the EA. A summary of the comments are included in Appendix A. The BLM signed their FONSI on May 23, 2022, and posted their FONSI on the BLM's ePlanning website.

RUS is satisfied that the environmental impacts of the proposed project have been adequately addressed. RUS's federal action would not result in significant impacts to the quality of the human environment, and as such it will not prepare an Environmental Impact Statement for its action related to the proposed project.

RUS posted the FONSI on the RUS website on October 12, 2022.

RE: Letter of Commendation

Dear Mr. Davis,

On September 10, 2022 your GCRC Roads crews went above and beyond in their scope of duties during the severe rain storm flooding that occurred on Diamond Bar Road. Heavy rains had caused multiple mudslides across all lanes of travel on Diamond Bar, and traffic was blocked in both directions, causing our visitors of Grand Canyon West to be prohibited from entering & exiting. Contact was made with Mohave County Roads Department, however, due to another disaster, they were significantly delayed in responding to our location to assist and clear the roadway of the debris from the rainwater and flooding.

Without hesitation, GCRC employees, Dennis James, JD Majenty, Jose Martinez and Monte Lerrets, worked tirelessly for many hours to clear the roadway to allow guests and staff to exit the property and return the roadway to normalcy.

We want to thank you and your staff for going above and beyond their regular duties. Their efforts are greatly appreciated, and we wanted to ensure they know their value to HNPd and GCRC.

Seeking One New Board Member for the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority (HTUA)

On September 24, 2014, the Hualapai Tribal Council adopted the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority Governing Ordinance. This is a significant step toward self-determination in the realm of public utilities for the Hualapai Tribe.

Established as an institution of Tribal government, the five members of the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority board are chosen by Council. As noted in Section 107.b.3, of the Ordinance, the HTUA Board is authorized to acquire, construct, operate, maintain, promote, and expand electric power service, and eventually water service, and sewage service at Grand Canyon West and on such other locations within the Hualapai Reservation and on other Tribal lands under the jurisdiction of the Hualapai Tribe as the Tribal Council may deem appropriate. The HTUA board is delegated full authority and responsibility for the management and operation of HTUA consistent with the Ordinance.

At this time, the Tribe is seeking one new candidate to apply for Board membership to maintain this important function of Tribal government.

- ◆ The position may be filled by a member of the Community who has sufficient education, experience, and sound judgment to learn basic utility business practices and procedures.
- ◆ The new board member will be appointed for a three-year term.
- ◆ No employee of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, employee of the HTUA or member of the Tribal Council shall be a member of the Board.

Please prepare a typed narrative offering your qualifications (resume) and general motivation to be a member of the Hualapai Tribal Utility Authority Board and what you hope to achieve while on the Board. Please bring or e-mail your letter of interest to the Tribal Office, 941 Hualapai Way, Peach Springs, Arizona, attention Christine Lee, by Friday, October 28, 2022, at 5:00 PM. Thank you for your thoughtful consideration of this offer and desire to enhance utility services on the Hualapai Reservation.

Ballot Propositions

Prop. 128

- What would the constitutional amendment do?

- The amendment would allow the legislature to amend, divert funds from, or supersede an initiative or referendum measure enacted by the people of Arizona if the measure is found to contain illegal or unconstitutional language by the Arizona or U.S. Supreme Court.

- What would a "YES" vote mean?

- A "YES" vote would allow the state legislature to amend, divert funds from, or supersede an initiative or referendum measure enacted by the people of Arizona if the measure is found to contain illegal or unconstitutional language by the Arizona or U.S. Supreme Court.

- What would a "NO" vote mean?

- A "NO" vote would keep the current law protecting a voter passed measure intact.

- How would this impact Tribal communities?

- Under current Arizona law, a voter passed measure is protected by the Voter Protection Act. Proposition 128 would weaken the Voter Protection Act by allowing the legislature to amend or eliminate a voter passed measure with a simple majority if any of the initiative is found to contain illegal or unconstitutional language by the Arizona or U.S. Supreme Court.

Prop. 129

- What would the constitutional amendment do?

- The amendment would limit an initiative measure to a single subject and require that subject to be expressed in the title of the initiative measure.

- What would a "YES" vote mean?

- A "YES" vote would eliminate the peoples' ability to combine issues into an initiative.

- What would a "NO" vote mean?

- A "NO" vote would keep the current law allowing voter initiatives to encompass more than one subject intact.

- How would this impact Tribal communities?

- Under current Arizona law, voter initiatives can encompass more than one subject. Proposition 129 could prevent initiatives from combining multiple subjects, such as the Arizonans for Free and Fair Elections Initiative.

Prop. 130

- What would the constitutional amendment do?

- The amendment would consolidate four (4) sections of the constitution regarding property tax exemptions into a single section, remove the constitutional determinations of the amounts of certain property tax exemptions, and allow property tax exemptions for resident veterans with disabilities, widows, and widowers regardless of when they became Arizona residents.

- What would a "YES" vote mean?

- A "YES" vote would amend the constitution to streamline and consolidate the property tax exemptions into one section. It would also allow disabled veterans, widows, and widowers to receive a property tax exemption.

- What would a "NO" vote mean?

- A "NO" vote would keep the current law on property tax exemptions in place.

Prop. 131

- What would the constitutional amendment do?

- The amendment would create a new executive officer who would be elected on a joint ticket with the Governor and succeed to the office of the Governor in the event of the Governor's death, removal from office, or disability to discharge the duties of the office.

- What would a "YES" vote mean?

- A "YES" vote would create the office of Lieutenant Governor beginning with the 2026 election, requiring that a nominee for Governor name a nominee for Lieutenant Governor to be jointly elected. The amendment would also replace the Secretary of State with the Lieutenant Governor as first in the line of succession to the Governor's office.

- What would a "NO" vote mean?

- A "NO" vote would keep the Secretary of State as the first in line in the event of the Governor's death, removal from office, resignation, or inability to discharge the duties of the office.

- How would this impact Tribal communities?

- Under current Arizona law, the elected Secretary of State automatically becomes Governor. The Governor and Secretary of State may be from different parties, like they are now. If Proposition 131 passes, the Governor and Lieutenant Governor would likely be from the same party.

Prop. 132

- What would the constitutional amendment do?

- The amendment would require that an initiative or referendum to approve a tax receives 60% of the votes cast to become law.

- What would a "YES" vote mean?

- A "YES" vote would require future voter initiatives raising revenue to pass with 60% of the vote.

- What would a "NO" vote mean?

- A "NO" vote would keep the current law requiring 50% plus one (1) vote to raise revenue intact.

- How would this impact Tribal communities?

- Under current Arizona law, a ballot measure that raises taxes will become law if it receives 50% of the vote plus one vote. Future initiatives raising revenue will require more votes to pass.

Prop. 209

- What would the initiative do?

- The law would (1) reduce maximum interest rates on medical debt from 10% to 3% annually; (2) increase the amount of certain assets exempt from debt collection; (3) annually adjust exemptions for inflation beginning in 2024; and (4) allow courts to reduce the amount of disposable earnings garnished in cases of extreme economic hardship.

- What would a "YES" vote mean?

- A "YES" vote would reduce interest rates on medical debt from 10% to no more than 3% annually; increase exemptions from all debt collection for certain personal assets, including a debtor's home, household items, motor vehicle, and bank account from debt collection; adjust exemptions from all debt collection for inflation beginning 2024; decrease the amount of disposable earnings subject to garnishment to no more than 10% of disposable earnings but allowing a court to decrease the disposable earnings subject to garnishment to 5% based on extreme economic hardship.

- What would a "NO" vote mean?

- A "NO" vote would keep the current law on predatory debt collection protection intact.

Prop. 211

- What would the initiative do?

- The law would require entities and persons spending over $50,000 on statewide campaigns or $25,000 on other campaigns, not including personal monies and business income, to disclose the original donor of contributions over $5,000. It would also create additional reporting and enforcement provisions.

- What would a "YES" vote mean?

- A "YES" vote would change the law to require that the original donors of campaign contributions over a certain amount be disclosed.

- What would a "NO" vote mean?

- A "NO" vote would keep the current law on campaign finance reporting requirements in place, allowing entities and individuals to fund political campaigns without disclosing the donor.

Prop. 308

- What would the legislative referral do?

- The law would allow Arizona students, regardless of immigration status, to be eligible for financial aid at state universities and community colleges and in-state tuition if they graduated from and attended a public or private high school, or home school equivalent, for two (2) years in Arizona.

- What would a "YES" vote mean?

- A "YES" vote would allow any Arizona student to qualify for in-state tuition and financial aid at state universities and community colleges.

- What would a "NO" vote mean?

- A "NO" vote would keep the current law on the classification of students for tuition purposes in place, and children brought to the U.S. at a young age would remain ineligible to receive financial aid and in-state tuition at Arizona community colleges and universities.

Prop. 309

• What would the legislative referral do?

- The law would require voters to write their birthdate, government-issued ID number, and signature on a concealed early ballot affidavit. It would also require photo ID to vote in person, and require the Arizona Department of Transportation to provide, without charge, a nonoperating ID license to individuals who request one for voting purposes.

• What would a "YES" vote mean?

- A "YES" vote would require an early ballot affidavit and return envelop to be capable of being concealed when returned. It would also require a voter to write their DOB, a state-issued ID number, or the last four (4) digits of their social security number, and signature on an early ballot affidavit. For in-person voting, the law would strictly require photo ID to receive a ballot, and would remove a voter's ability to receive a ballot at an in-person voting location without photo ID by showing two other identifying documents.

• What would a "NO" vote mean?

- A "NO" vote would keep existing law on early ballot affidavits and voter ID in place.

Example List 3

Prop. 309 Tribal Impacts

• Reduce Acceptable Forms of Tribal ID

- In addition to the strict photo ID requirement for in-person voting, Proposition 309 would limit the Tribal IDs that are currently acceptable under the settlement reached following the lawsuits filed by the Navajo Nation & ITCA after Proposition 200 was passed.

• Vote-By-Mail

- The law would require voters to write their birthdate, government-issued ID number, and signature on early ballot affidavits.
- Verifying DOB would be very difficult for Native voters who received a delayed birth certificate and have been arbitrarily assigned different birthdays by different government entities.

• Tribal IDs That Would No Longer Qualify

- Under Proposition 309, the following Tribal IDs would not be acceptable forms of ID to vote in-person:
 - Gila River Indian Community (no address)
 - Havasupai Tribe (no address)
 - Hopi Tribe (no address)
 - Navajo Nation Certificate of Indian Blood (no address or photo)
 - Tohono O'odham Nation (no address)
 - Tonto Apache (no address)

Prop. 309 Tribal Impacts

- A Valid & Unexpired Form of ID

- Prop. 309 would require a valid and unexpired form of ID for in-person voting
- The proposition would get rid of the language under the current law that provides "Identification is deemed valid unless it can be determined on its face that it has expired."

- Tribal IDs that Expire

- The following Tribal IDs have an expiration date:
 - Ak-Chin Indian Community (expires every 4 years)
 - Cocopah Indian Tribe (expires every 4 years)
 - Fort Mojave Indian Tribe (expires every 5 years)
 - Havasupai Tribe (expires every 2 years)

Prop. 309 Notable Opposition

- Arizona Association of County Recorders opposes Proposition 309 for the following reasons:

- The few instances of voter fraud that have occurred in the past 10 years would not have been stopped by Prop 309.
- The current requirement that voters sign their ballot is the same form of identification used for checks, contracts, and used by all other vote-by-mail heavy states.
- Proposition 309 would quadruple the amount of time needed to process ballots by mail.
- Jeopardizes voter data privacy and potentially opens voters up to identity theft should those ballots be intercepted.
- Texas adopted a similar law and it led to the disenfranchisement of thousands of voters; Arizona Recorders do not want to see thousands of voters disenfranchised in Arizona.

Prop. 310

- What would the legislative referral do?

- The law would establish a fire district safety fund to be funded via an increase of one-tenth of one percent to the state's transaction privilege (sales) and use tax from January 1, 2023 through December 31, 2042.

- What would a "YES" vote mean?

- A "YES" vote would increase the sales tax by one-tenth of one percent to fund fire districts for 20 years, starting January 2023.

- What would a "NO" vote mean?

- A "NO" vote would keep the law on tax rates and funding for fire districts the same.

- How would this impact Tribal communities?

- The proposition would increase the state sales tax by one tenth of one percent. If passed, Tribal voters would be required to pay the tax, but Tribal fire departments would not benefit from the tax increase.

CURRENT VOTER ID LAWS IN ARIZONA

In 2006, the Navajo Nation & Inter Tribal Council of Arizona filed lawsuits to enjoin the enforcement of Arizona's voter ID law, Proposition 200, because of the disproportionate harm it caused Native American voters, especially elderly and limited English proficient voters.

The lawsuits resulted in a settlement expanding the types of documents that qualify as Tribal ID to meet the ID requirement at the polls. Acceptable forms of Tribal ID include, but are not limited to, the following:

a Tribal ID/enrollment card issued by a federally recognized Tribe of the BIA

a CDIB card issued by the BIA

a voter registration card for Tribal elections issued by a Tribe

a home site assignment lease, permit, or allotment issued by a Tribe, Tribal subdivision, or by the BIA

a grazing permit or allotment issued to a Tribal member by a Tribe, Tribal subdivision, or by the BIA

*Under current Arizona law, Tribal members may vote a regular provisional ballot upon presentation of certain forms of Tribal ID.

COULD I STILL USE MY TRIBAL ID TO VOTE IN PERSON?

Under Prop. 309, the following Tribal IDs would not be acceptable for in-person voting:

- Gila River Indian Community (no address)
- Hopi Tribe (no address)
- Navajo Nation Certificate of Indian Blood (no address or photo)
- Tohono O'odham Nation (no address)
- Tonto Apache (no address)

PROPOSITION 309

Arizona Native Vote
Election Protection

WHAT WOULD PROP. 309 CHANGE?

IN PERSON VOTING

The law would require a strict photo ID to vote in person. Voters would no longer be able to receive a ballot at in-person voting locations without photo ID by showing two other identifying documents.

EARLY VOTING

The law would require voters to write their birthdate, government-issued ID number, and signature on a concealed early ballot affidavit.

WHAT IS A GOVERNMENT-ISSUED ID NUMBER?

The following could be used as a government-issued ID number under Prop. 309:

- A driver's license or nonoperating ID license number
- The last four (4) digits of a social security number
- A voter ID number

TRIBAL IMPACTS

The photo ID requirement would exclude Tribal IDs and IDs issued by the U.S. government that don't display the voter's photo, name, and address. Additionally, the law would render most forms of Tribal ID unacceptable that are currently acceptable pursuant to the settlement agreement.

DATE OF BIRTH REQUIREMENT

Verifying birthdates would be difficult for Native voters who received a delayed birth certificate and have been arbitrarily assigned different birthdays by different government entities.

Arizona Central • Arizona Voters Will Decide These Ballot Measures in 2022

Submitted by: Brook Bender | Hualapai Senior Center | AZCentral.com

Arizona voters will decide these ballot measures in 2022

Ryan Randazzo | Arizona Republic | Sep. 19, 2022

Voters will have 10 ballot measures to decide, including Proposition 131, which would create the office of lieutenant governor in Arizona. Be informed for the November 2022 election. Arizona voters will have 10 ballot measures to decide this Election Day. Given the mountain of information to sort through with this many measures, The Arizona Republic has prepared a summary of each proposition, as well as the people who are supporting and opposing the proposals.

ELECTIONS

Proposition 128: Ballot initiatives

Legislature could divert funds from illegal/unconstitutional ballot measures

If approved, this constitutional amendment would allow lawmakers to change ballot measures that voters approve, or to divert funds from them, if either the Arizona or U.S. Supreme Court determines a measure is unconstitutional.

A no vote would keep the current law in place, which voters approved in 1998. The Voter Protection Act won that year with more than 52% of the vote and prohibited lawmakers from changing measures passed by voters. That law requires that any amendment or diversion of funds from a voter-approved initiative must further the purpose of the measure and also must get a 75% vote in both chambers of the Legislature.

Who wants it? Supporters who wrote ballot arguments for the measure include the Arizona Free Enterprise Club, Arizona Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Center for Arizona Policy and other business interests who contend the measure will make it possible to fix problems in voter-approved measures.

Who opposes it? Representatives from the League of Women Voters, One Arizona, Mormon Women for Ethical Government, Arizona Education Association, Living United for Change in Arizona and others wrote arguments against the measure, saying it would give lawmakers the ability to overturn the will of voters.

ELECTIONS

Proposition 129: Ballot initiatives

Limits future initiatives to a single issue described in the title

A yes vote on this measure supports a change to require voter initiatives to cover only one subject and would require a description of that subject in the title. Any portion of such an initiative not addressed in the title would be void, even if approved by voters.

Who wants it? Supporters who wrote ballot arguments for the measure include the Arizona Free Enterprise Club, Arizona Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Center for Arizona Policy and other business interests who contend the measure will ensure voters don't inadvertently approve something that is not described in a measure's title.

Who opposes it? Representatives from the League of Women Voters, One Arizona, Arizona Education Association, Living United for Change in Arizona and others wrote arguments against the measure, saying it limits the power of voters to enact their own laws.

ELECTIONS

Proposition 130: Property taxes

Allows exemptions for disabled veterans, widows and widowers

The measure would allow property tax exemptions for veterans with disabilities, widows, and widowers regardless of when they became Arizona residents, though people could only have one of those exemptions. This also would amend the Arizona Constitution to consolidate property-tax exemptions and remove rules for the amounts of exemptions, leaving that to the Legislature.

Who wants it? County assessors from Maricopa, Pima and Yuma counties and the Arizona Tax Research Association, among others, wrote arguments in support of the measure, saying it restores an exemption that was struck down by courts because of a flaw in the language.

Who opposes it? No arguments were filed against it with the Secretary of State's Office.

ELECTIONS

Proposition 131: Lieutenant governor

Creates a new political office to allow governor candidates to run as a ticket with a lieutenant governor, who would succeed them if they left office

This measure would create a new office of lieutenant governor to run as a ticket with candidates for governor. In the event the sitting governor dies, resigns or is removed from office, the lieutenant governor would assume the role. Currently, the secretary of state is second in line for the governorship in Arizona, and that person is not always of the same political party because the offices are elected separately.

Who wants it? State Sens. J.D. Mesnard, R-Chandler and Sean Bowie, D-Phoenix, League of Women Voters and state GOP Chairwoman Kelli Ward wrote in support of the measure, noting that prior to the current governor, it was more than 30 years since a governor completed a full eight years in office. They argue a successor from the same party from the same ticket provides continuity in government.

Who opposes it? No arguments were filed against it with the Secretary of State's Office.

ELECTIONS

Proposition 132: Raising taxes

Requires a supermajority of 60% voter approval to create tax law via ballot measures

The initiative would require any ballot measure that creates a tax to get 60% of the vote to become law.

Who wants it? Gov. Doug Ducey, representatives from the Goldwater Institute, Arizona Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Arizona Tax Research Association, Arizona Free Enterprise Club and others wrote arguments supporting it, saying that broad agreement should be required to raise taxes. They also note that lawmakers must have a two-thirds vote to approve new taxes.

Who opposes it? Representatives from the Arizona Center for Economic Progress, League of Women Voters, Arizona Education Association, Children's Action Alliance, Living United for Change in Arizona, One Arizona and others oppose the measure, saying it takes lawmaking power away from voters.

ELECTIONS Proposition 209: Debt collection

Shields more assets from debt collectors and limits interest rates

The measure would reduce the maximum interest rate on medical debt to 3% annually, from 10%. It would increase the assets exempt from debt collection. It would adjust exemptions for inflation starting in 2024 and would allow courts to reduce the earnings garnished in cases of extreme economic hardship.

Who wants it? Representatives from Healthcare Rising Arizona, which includes the Arizona Education Association, Arizona Faith Network, Living United for Change in Arizona, Wildfire and several other community groups, as well as Arizona Democratic Party Chairwoman Raquel Terán, multiple health care workers and others wrote arguments supporting the measure. They contend people should be able to protect more of their assets from medical debt collectors.

Who opposes it? The Goldwater Institute, Greater Phoenix Chamber of Commerce, Tucson Metro Chamber of Commerce, Arizona Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Arizona Free Enterprise Club and others wrote arguments opposing the measure, saying it will harm people by reducing their ability to access credit. They also contend that when lenders can't collect debt, they will raise rates on other customers.

ELECTIONS Proposition 211: Campaign finance

Increases the disclosure required for people donating to campaigns

The measure would require entities and people spending more than $50,000 on statewide political campaigns, or $25,000 on other campaigns, to disclose the original donor of any contributions greater than $5,000. Personal money and business income are exempted.

Who wants it? The measure is sponsored by an organization co-chaired by former Phoenix mayor and state Attorney General Terry Goddard, and several others wrote in support of it including the League of Women Voters of Arizona and Corporation Commissioner Sandra Kennedy, contending that voters have a right to know who is spending money to influence their decisions.

Who opposes it? The presidents of the Free Enterprise Club and Center for Arizona Policy wrote in opposition to the measure, saying it would allow for bullying of groups that wish to confidentially influence elections, and that groups should be able to spend on elections without fear of harassment.

ELECTIONS Proposition 308: Dreamer tuition

Arizona high school students, regardless of their immigration status, could pay in-state university tuition rates and access financial aid

The measure would make Arizona students who attended any public or private school, or home school equivalent, for two years, eligible for financial aid at state universities and in-state tuition rates, regardless of immigration status.

Who wants it? The Greater Phoenix Chamber of Commerce, Arizona Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Children's Action Alliance, Chicanos por la Causa, a group called Aliento that is run by undocumented youth and others wrote in support of the measure, contending that children who are undocumented should have the same educational opportunities as citizens.

Who opposes it? Former Arizona Senate President Russell Pearce and Arizona GOP Chairwoman Kelli Ward, and a few others, wrote in opposition to the measure, saying people who are in the country illegally should not receive in-state college tuition.

ELECTIONS Proposition 309: Voter ID

Requires more proof of identity to vote by mail and in person

The measure would require voters to write their birth date, government identification number and signature on an early ballot affidavit to vote by mail, rather than just simply putting their signatures on early ballot envelopes.

People voting in person already must provide either a photo identification or two items that show the name and address of the voter such as utility bills. The measure would change that to require photo identification for all in-person voters and, if the address on the identification didn't match voter rolls, then the two items such as utility bills would be required. The Department of Transportation would have to issue IDs for voting purposes for free.

Who wants it? Heritage Action for America, Sen. J.D. Mesnard, R-Chandler, who wrote the legislation for the measure, and several other Republican lawmakers and representatives from the Free Enterprise Club and Goldwater Institute wrote in support of the measure, saying it would help restore voter confidence in elections.

Who opposes it? Representatives from the League of Women Voters, One Arizona, Living United for Change in Arizona and others wrote in opposition to the measure, saying it will disqualify some people from voting if they don't have an unexpired photo identification or forget to return the affidavit with their mail-in ballot.

ELECTIONS Proposition 310: Fire district taxes

Bump in sales tax would fund rural fire protection

The measure would create a fire district safety fund using a one-tenth of 1% increase in state transaction-privilege taxes, commonly called sales taxes that would last from Jan. 1, 2023, to Dec. 31, 2042. The money would go to fire districts, which are funded differently than fire departments in major metro areas.

Who wants it? A host of firefighting groups from around the state wrote in support of the measure, saying that the additional funding is needed for the first responders who address vehicle accidents, fires and other emergencies in rural areas.

Who opposes it? Five opposition statements were filed against the measure, including from state GOP Chair Kelli Ward, Cindy Biggs, whose husband is U.S. Rep. Andy Biggs, R-Arizona, and a representative from the Free Enterprise Club, who argue the money is not needed and that some rural fire districts have acted irresponsibly.

First Things First • Ease Young Kids into Halloween for a Smooth Experience

FIRST THINGS FIRST

HUALAPAI REGION

MONTHLY UPDATE

Ease young kids into Halloween for a smooth experience

Being on the lookout for fears and anxieties about Halloween is the first step.

Halloween can be a fun time of year, but for infants, toddlers and preschoolers – who often can't distinguish between fantasy and reality – scary experiences can ruin the holiday. Easing young children into Halloween is one of the best ways to have a smooth and safe holiday for young children.

As Arizona's early childhood agency, @AZFirstThingsFirst tells parents and caregivers, being on the lookout for fears and anxieties about Halloween is the first step. Know that fear is a common experience for young children exploring the world around them, not just on Halloween. This type of social-emotional learning is a large part of early childhood. Helping young children work through their emotions is a skill that will serve them later in life.

According to the American Academy of Pediatrics, parents are encouraged to talk to their child about their fears and anxieties with a sympathetic ear.

- Do not belittle or ridicule your child's fears, especially in front of his peers.
- Do not try to pressure your child into being brave. It takes time to confront and overcome anxiety.
- Instead, a parent can encourage, but not force, them to progressively come face-to-face with the fear.

First Things First offers these additional tips for minimizing anxiety and helping young kids enjoy Halloween.

- Teach kids the difference between real and imaginary.
- Choose costumes and decorations carefully.
- Practice for trick or treating.
- On the big night, go early and always stay with your children.

“Working together to address Substance Abuse and promote well-being.”

Sherry J. Parker, Project Coordinator

October 14, 2022

Dear Hualapai Community;

Greeting to everyone! I wanted to write to you and inform you of some very important issues that are coming to our community. Working in the field of substance abuse we hear of things that impact our community or are on the way here.

There is drug that is called “Fentanyl” this drug is very dangerous and can kill instantly. We are sending this warning to the Hualapai community to so that we can BEWARE of Fentanyl! This drug is being given out in a bright color pill form.

Our children are in danger and we must warn them not to take anything from anyone as the Fentanyl is being disguised in brightly colored pills that looks like candy. The different names are “Skittles, Rainbow, Chalk, and M30’s/Blues!!

We recently had a presentation by Mohave County Department of Public Health. Halloween is upon us and our children will be going out to get candy. Parents please go through the candy and discard anything that looks suspicious especially candy that is not in a package!

Please take this warning very seriously as Fentanyl is 50 to 100X stronger than morphine or heroin. It is important that if you encounter someone that has ingested Fentanyl to get help immediately by contacting 911 or Emergency Services right away so they can be treated with Narcan (naloxone) to prevent death.

PLEASE GET THIS MESSAGE OUT TO EVERYONE YOU KNOW! THIS IS URGENT!!

Are Your Pipes Ready for Winter?Submitted by: Marco Flores, Jr. | Hualapai Public Works

Are your pipes ready for winter?

Cold temperatures are now affecting the Peach Springs Community as of Oct 23, 2022

Household pipes are at their highest risk of damage during the freezing temperatures. Once the water in the pipes freezes, it automatically expands, causing pipes to burst. This is the crucial reason it is vital to check out the plumbing pipes in your home continually. Here are a couple things to do to keep your home safe:

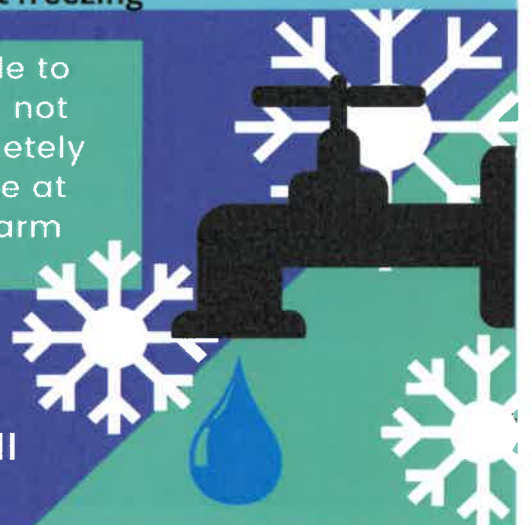

Insulate exposed piping: any exposed water pipes in uninsulated spaces like a crawlspace, attic, etc., should be insulated to a minimum using foam insulating sleeves. Wrap around the pipes with electrical heating tape before you insulate.

Insulate exterior faucets: first, turn off the water supply of the exterior faucets inside the house, then drain water from them by opening the faucets till it drains completely. You can also decide to get an insulated cover for the hose bibb. Finally, disconnect your garden hoses from the outside faucets and drain them. Overnight, place faucets to a small trickle to keep a minimal amount of water in the pipes to prevent freezing

Keep your Pipes Warm: Frozen pipes are susceptible to damage and can cause a severe problem if care is not taken. Hence, you shouldn't turn off your heat completely when you leave the house. Keeping the temperature at around 55°F is enough to ensure that pipes stay warm enough.

To report leaks or broken lines, please call Tribal Office 928-769-2216

For after hours or weekends, please call EMS at 928-769-2205

Seligman's Glory Days Aided by Native Power
 Submitted by: Adeline Crozier on behalf of Stanley Hammond

Seligman's Glory Days Aided by Native Power

Seligman, Arizona: Seligman High School Baseball team of the late 1950's and the early 1960's, were the powerhouse of the Arizona High School Baseball (Class C North). They won the state championship five consecutive times. During each of the regular seasons, only some of the bigger schools in the Phoenix area had defeated them by a narrow margin in non-league games. But still they had beaten some of them. In their own class, the Antelopes were undefeated.

Most of the players (during that era) were Native American (Hualapai Tribe) from Peach Springs, Arizona. To name some of them are Infielder – Wilfred Imus (transfer student from Phoenix Indian School); Infielder – Luke Tapija; Infielder – Wallace Quarta; Infielder – Tiny Beacher and Outfielder – Leslie Powskey. The late Wilfred Imus, an all-state running back (football) was one of the all-around athletes with four years of varsity experience in each of the sports of Football, Basketball, Baseball and Track and Field during that time for the Seligman High School Antelopes.

All athletes, Native and non-native who participated in the sports program for Seligman are honored and are appreciated.

"Dear staff,

My name is Mr. Stanley Hammond, a Navajo of Teec Nos Pos, Arizona, northeast corner of the state. Recently, I got together with Seligman High School Admin staff. This is about to print an article of the past baseball team in the Navajo Times. The school and I felt to honor the Hualapai players from Peach Springs and kept the memories alive. Over the years 1950s and early 1960s more Hualapai players were involved, for this I mentioned some of the players.

The late Wilfred Imus was my school buddy and team mate in Junior High and part of high school at Phoenix Indian School before he transferred to Seligman. At one time, Wilfred and his Seligman baseball team came to play Wickenburg High School northwest of Phoenix. I came to see the game from Phoenix Indian School. Seligman gave Wickenburg a good game., (Wickenburg a little bigger school). No double header that time. After the game, Wilfred introduced his fellow players to me.

These Hualapai boys and Wilfred used to go to Gallup International Ceremony in Gallup, NM. and also to Navajo Nation Fair in Window Rock, Arizona. In a way, they supported the various events; so the Navajo officials appreciate that, I also appreciated it too.

I used to know Norman Imus (Wilfred's late father), he was a military veteran but I don't know the rest of his family. Again, this is to honor the players.

Your consideration and understanding and response of the foregoing concern will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
 Stanley Hammond
 A buddy of the Peach Springs Baseball Greats and Athletes"

Proudly Announces and Congratulates

September 2022 Volunteer of the Month:

Willow Majenty aka "DJ Pillow"

Willow Majenty, Peach Springs community and Hualapai Tribal member joined the KWLP volunteer DJ crew in 2017. She has always been an enthusiastic and reliable participant at the station - hosting her show "Rock Out Hour" every Friday at 2:00p.m. and assisting with events and more! This month she has felt like staff - coming in most days to help with whatever we need: organizing files, donations and supplies, taking inventory, making deliveries, and this month, preparing for the parade. She is always smiling and pleasant. If you attended the Hualapai Days parade you saw Willow assuming the role of KWLP's Mascot, "The Peach Dude" and all that smiling we've come to expect. She makes coming to work all the more fun! She continues to demonstrate how one can volunteer and be part of The Peach Crew without ever going on the air, too! We want to be sure she knows how much we appreciate her—on and off the air. Tune in to her show and if you get a chance give her a thumbs up! Willow will receive over $100 in incentives as Volunteer of the Month!
